From Your Presidents.....

Exciting things are happening in HCRSP!! We are launching our new community participation project with HCC this month!

We are also beginning our sales of the Coupon Books for Haywood Schools Foundation!

We have an opportunity to voice our opinion about candidates for state offices, and we are electing our delegates to the NEA-Retired National Convention.

In addition, this is your chance to join us as delegates to the NCRSP state convention in Fayetteville in March. Just let us know immediately if you want to go! Names must be turned in before our February meeting.

Check out the articles in this newsletter for more information about these topics!

HCRSP Launches Community Project!

We are excited about our opportunity to help provide book sets and bookcases for the new Child Development Center at Haywood Community College.

After conversations with Sara Glavin from HCC, we are beginning this month to purchase book sets and hopefully a bookcase from Kaplan Company, the book company approved by the HCC Board of Directors. This is a project with which we can continue to be involved in coming years as we add sets of books for the children to use.

It is exciting to know that Haywood County Retired School Personnel will be contributing to the education of these young children, ages birth to four years old.

One of the requested book sets will be available for viewing at the February meeting. Donations for this project will be accepted at the meetings, or can be sent to Dale Jackson, treasurer, 57 Chateau Place, Waynesville, 28785. Checks should be made out to HCRSP. Rather than have our bake sale this month, we would like for you to donate what you would have spent on tickets to the CDC fund.

Our February meeting will focus on our community involvement project with HCC's new Child Development Center, where we hope to provide book sets and bookcases. In conjunction with this focus on reading, we welcome Sharon Erwin-Smart, librarian at Tuscola High School, as our guest.
